PASRR Screen Submissions & the Level I Process
What is PASRR and when did it start?	Preadmission Screening and Resident Review (PASRR) is a federally mandated screening process dating back to 1987. PASRR was created as a part of the Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act (OBRA), also known as the Nursing Home Reform Act. PASRR requirements were also added to the Social Security Act as sections 1919 (b) (3) (F) and 1919 (e) (7). Nationwide, PASRR programs are overseen by the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS). States are responsible for implementing and operating PASRR programs in accordance with federal requirements found primarily at: 42 CFR (Chapter IV, Subchapter G) Part 483.100-138 Subpart C. https://www.ecfr.gov/current/title-42/chapter-IV/subchapter-G/part-483/subpart-C.
What is the purpose of the PASRR program?	PASRR was established as part of the de-institutionalization process to ensure people with disabilities (i.e., Serious Mental Illness, Intellectual and/or Related Conditions): • Are not inappropriately institutionalized in a NF • Receive services in the least restrictive setting, and that • Needed services/supports are identified for the NF to provide. PASRR is an important tool for states to use in rebalancing services away from institutions and towards supporting people in their homes, and to comply with the Supreme Court decision, Olmstead vs L.C. (1999). Under the Americans with Disabilities Act, individuals with disabilities cannot be required to be institutionalized to receive public benefits that could be furnished in community-based settings The goal of PASRR is to optimize an individual's placement success, treatment success, and ultimately, an individual's quality of life.

QUESTIONS	ANSWERS
What does PASRR require?	PASRR requires that all applicants to Medicaid-certified nursing facilities be given a preadmission, preliminary, screening to determine whether they might have a Serious Mental Illness (SMI) or an Intellectual Disability (ID) or a Related Condition (RC). This is called a Level I Screen. Individuals whose Level I screen shows indicators of SMI/ID/RC will receive a clinical review to determine if an in-depth evaluation, called a Level II, is needed prior to nursing facility (NF) admission or if assessment can be delayed until after admission. The applicability of the Exempted Hospital Discharge and PASRR categoricals are also considered. When a comprehensive Level II assessment is needed, it results in a determination as to whether the person has a qualifying PASRR condition, and if so, the appropriateness of the NF setting and any specialized (disability-specific) services needed.
The Level I Screening Process
When do I need to submit a Level I PASRR Screen?	In Vermont, a Level I should be submitted in AssessmentPro when: • An individual is considering admission to a Medicaid Certified NF (i.e. for pre-admission screening) or when • A current NF resident has experienced a significant change (i.e., for a status change review) Note: Per OAAS, the Level I should only be submitted after the LOCET has been completed.
Who is required to have a preadmission Level I Screen?	Everyone seeking entry into a Medicaid certified NF, regardless of payer source, diagnoses, or current location must be screened prior to NF admission.
Who performs the Level I PASRR screening?	Maximus helps to carry out Level I PASRR screening as part of this program on behalf of the Department of Mental Health (DMH) and DAIL (Disabilities, Aging and Independent Living). You can learn more about Maximus here: www.maximus.com.
